

From: Charles Shapiro
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/24/02 10:48am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

The current proposed final judgement on the Microsoft antitrust case is inadequate. Terms used in the document (such as "API" or "Windows OS") are either misdefined or poorly defined. It also falls short on such crucial aspects as remedies if Microsoft fails to keep its promises, removal of artificial barriers to entry into the operating system software business, and proper protection of Open Source authors.

A proper final judgement should address all of these concerns.

-- CHS
Charles.Shapiro@numethods.com